Service excellence

At EDF Energy we are committed to providing you with fair value and better service in a clear and simple way. We know that sometimes we get things wrong, so we've put together this e-guide to show what you can expect if you wish to complain.

This e-guide lets you know our complaints handling procedure. If you're unhappy with the level of service you have received from us, please let us know so we can try to resolve the issue as quickly as possible.

Outcome

We will respond to your complaint within 10 working days. Following the full review of your complaint we may take the following actions:

- Apologise and explain to you our findings and why this has occurred
- Take appropriate action to put things right
- Explain our next steps which may include compensation paid by EDF Energy in appropriate circumstances.

If we are unable to reach an agreement we will write to you explaining our position and provide a final offer. This is known as a Deadlock letter.

Any of these outcomes listed could be delivered at any stage of the complaints process. Please see Step 1 on page 4 for where to begin.

For further advice for Micro Businesses, please see page 8.

You can also contact Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline for further information at any time. Please see page 10.

Contact us through the most convenient method in step 1, stating that you would like a full review of your complaint.

What we'll do...

A full independent review of your complaint will be carried out by our specialist Complaint Investigation Team. All correspondence and actions taken to date will be investigated, with the hope that your complaint can be resolved. Again, we'll work hard to review and resolve your complaint in 10 working days and will keep you up to date on progress if it is taking longer than this. In the instances where it is not possible to agree an appropriate resolution, we will provide you with a letter that states our final position. This is sometimes referred as a Deadlock letter.

If you are not satisfied with our final offer and position you may continue to pursue your complaint through other third part channels such as consumer groups or arbitrators.

Independent help for Micro Businesses

A Micro Business is any customer that has:

- An annual consumption of electricity not more than 100,000 kWh; or
- An annual consumption of gas of not more than 293,000 kWh; or
- Fewer than the equivalent of 10 full time employees, and an annual turnover or annual balance sheet total not exceeding € million.

If you are a Micro Business and you remain dissatisfied with our final offer, you may be eligible to contact the Ombudsman Services:Energy for a free and independent review of your concerns.

Ombudsman Services:Energy

Who are they?

Ombudsman Services:Energy is a free and independent body which has the power to resolve certain disputes between electricity suppliers and eligible domestic and Micro Business customers.

What do they do?

They will conduct a full review of your complaint and if the Ombudsman finds that we have not acted correctly, it will recommend what we should do to put things right.

This could include:

- An apology
- Explanation from EDF Energy
- Compensation from EDF Energy (in appropriate circumstances)
- A service or a practical action. For example, remove charges which have been incorrectly billed.

The Ombudsman may also recommend we make changes to our policies and procedures so that the same problem is less likely to occur again.

EDF Energy is bound by any decision made by the Ombudsman, but customers are not. Therefore, if you are not satisfied with their decision, you are free to pursue your complaint elsewhere, but will lose the right to any resolution through the Ombudsman services.

Independent help for Micro Businesses

Can I use their services?

The Ombudsman only considers complaints by Domestic and Micro Business customers. If you are unsure if you meet the Micro Business criteria or whether the Ombudsman can consider your complaint, please contact the Ombudsman direct.

When can I contact them?

The Ombudsman will only consider conducting a full review if we have been provided an adequate opportunity to resolve your complaint.

The Ombudsman will only investigate your complaint if the following circumstances apply:

- You have received a Deadlock letter from us (see page 7 for more information); or
- At least 8 weeks have passed since you first made the complaint to us.

If you contact the Ombudsman before either of these requirements, they will refer your complaint back to us for further action.

Is there a deadline for referring a complaint?

The Ombudsman may investigate a complaint if:

- You receive a deadlock letter from us. You can then refer your complaint to the Ombudsman within 12 months of the date on this letter
- You haven't yet received a deadlock letter, but at least eight weeks have passed since you first made the complaint to us.

What if their resolution is still not satisfactory?

If you're not satisfied with the Ombudsman's decision you may reject the proposed solution and continue to pursue your complaint elsewhere. Should you reject the proposed solution or fail to respond to the Ombudsman within 28 days you will lose the right to that solution.

How do I contact them?

You can contact the Ombudsman in one of the following ways:

- Online at: www.ombudsman-services.org/energy
- Email osenquiries@os-energy.org
- Call 0330 440 1624 (Mon - Fri, 9am - 5pm)
